- (b.) "Blind" advertising that fails to give the name of the school and the address at which inquiries should be made:
- (c.) The use of the "Help Wanted" column of any newspaper or periodical:
- (d.) Any advertising, either verbal, written, or printed, that states or intimates that there is a specific demand or that there are positions available for graduate students or trained men, unless definite proof is available as part of the school's records that such a demand exists, or that such positions are available, together with the location of same:

(e.) Any advertising, either verbal, written, or printed, that assures or guarantees employment as a result of the training offered:

(f.) Any broadcast by radio, public-address system, or telephone, unless from written script in conformity with the regulations. Nothing shall be added or detracted from the written script and a correct copy thereof shall be kept on file as a part of the school records.

4. Premises and Equipment.—It shall be the responsibility of every proprietor or operator of a trade-school to supply and maintain suitable and adequate premises, equipment, tools, implements, instruments, books, courses, and materials for the use of students and for the proper teaching of the trades or occupations taught.

5. Form of Contract.—Every form of contract used in connection with the sale of tuition shall be first approved by the Minister, who may require that suitable security be deposited with him for the due carrying-out of its terms and conditions.

All contracts shall clearly set out the subjects included in the course of study and the tuition fee for same, and no additional fee or price shall be chargeable to a student for the purchase or use of any books, clothing, tools, implements, instruments, or materials without the written permission of the Minister.

6. Collection and Retention of Tuition Fees.—After the coming into force of these regulations, it shall be a condition of every contract entered into between the proprietor or operator of a trade-school and a student contracting to take a course of study, that it shall be the right of the student to give notice in writing to the proprietor or operator of his intention to cease taking such course, and upon paying for such portion of tuition as he has already received and 10 per cent. of the amount remaining due under the contract all further contractual liability shall cease.

In the case of a student who desires to pay for a course of study or a portion of a course of study in advance, the proprietor or operator may accept such fee or portion of fee as applicable towards tuition as and when supplied, but upon receipt of notice in writing from such student that it is his intention to cease taking the course of study, any unearned portion of tuition fees shall be returnable to the student, less 10 per cent. of the fee for the unfinished portion of the course, and thereupon all further contractual liability shall cease.

7. Student Services or Labour.—A trade-school shall not be operated jointly or in conjunction with a shop or any other business. Student services or articles produced wholly or in part by student labour must not be sold or offered for sale by the keeper or operator of a trade-school or any person connected therewith, except as may be prescribed by special regulation promulgated by the Lieutenant-Governor in Council in accordance with the provisions of the Act.

8. Physical and Educational Qualification of Students.—Before any contract is entered into in regard to any course of study, it shall be the duty of the proprietor or operator of any trade-school to satisfy himself that the person applying for such course is physically capable of taking same and that he has sufficient educational qualifications to understand and complete the course of study contemplated.

9. Hours of Operation.—The requirements for the admission of students, the length of courses and hours, and methods of shop, laboratory, class-room, and home instruction shall conform to those set out in the application for registration or reregistration, and shall not be varied without the permission of the Minister.

10. Teachers.—The proprietor or operator of any trade-school shall maintain an adequate teaching staff, composed of persons of such general and occupational education, practical

11. Posting Regulations.—A copy of these regulations shall be kept posted within the school premises for the use of students in such manner that they are in plain view and readily available for their information.
